enlightenment is cheap

we are
love.

meditate on peace

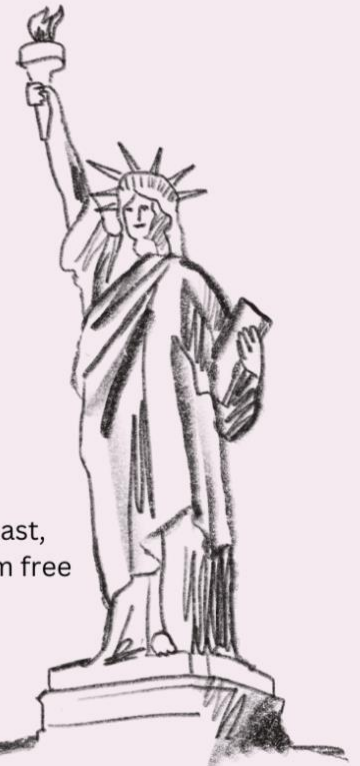

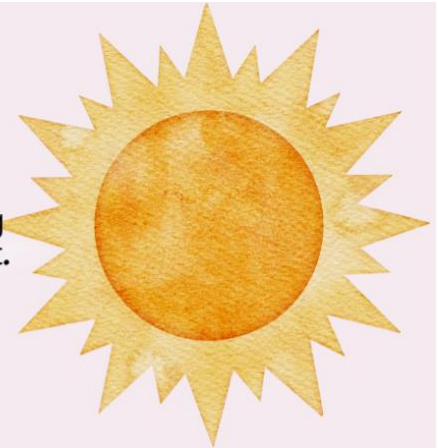

use your imagination, that's what it's there for.

it costs nothing to care.

give it up.
all. your good intentions
let it go with the flow
you and I
we're in this together you say yet you keep holding on to everything that's dear. like your life depends on it.
let. it. go.
I Am waiting.
there is light at the end of the tunnel
you and i
give it up.

i call out to you, can't you hear me? nudging you in the dark. beckoning with the eternal sigh of a spotless mind, broken by injury on repeat. Do it again she said, so I can see you blush.

why me? choose
someone else.

"Free at last, free at last,
thank God Almighty, I'm free
at last." MLK jr.

the end of death-dealing systems

Daring plight of the ages, neutralize this poison that throbs within our veins. Dancing to the drum of bittersweet melancholy. Our Mother she stands, brave, defiant, armed and ready for her betrayal. Christ-like hanging on a tree, she shines throughout the ages. The Light declaring without words I Am yours. Kill her we must, for her life is evidence of another way. A higher way. Worlds beyond worlds. We are undone.

Rooted to the earth buried treasure awaits.
Return to the one who made you. The call
goes out.

What roots
you?

We are all connected you and I. So let's get along.

grow, believe, become, imagine worlds beyond worlds, many layers deep.

sacred earth.

Close your eyes and imagine the world the way you dream it to be.
Do this everyday for 17 seconds.

sanctified. healed. heart.

Take radical steps for self transformation.
Do it again. Repeat.

Each of us is a reflection of the divine. Wholly unique, held, adored by the Energy-that-Creates-Worlds. Prove me otherwise.

the more that creeps up
on you
unexpectedly

“Wait! I’m still becoming” she said.

brandish your sword

rest is resistance
